What supports the case, and what puts it at risk

▲ SUPPORTS THE CASE

White City: Grade A vacancy 11.5% against 17.9% overall, gap widening

New and refurbished space in White City is 11.5% vacant against 17.9% for all space in Q2 2026, a gap of 6.4pp (from 5.0pp the quarter before). [1]

Occupiers are concentrating on the best space: Grade A buildings let first while second-hand space waits. Supports Grade A rents and the case for refurbishment; raises the risk on older stock.

▲ SUPPORTS THE CASE

Barclays buys 1 Churchill Place, Canary Wharf, for £750m

Barclays has acquired its Canary Wharf headquarters at 1 Churchill Place for £750m, reflecting a 5.62% yield. The deal lifted Docklands & Stratford investment turnover to... [10]

Sets fresh pricing (yield) evidence for valuations and acquisitions.

▲ SUPPORTS THE CASE

Docklands & Stratford investment volume +525% vs long-term average

Investment volume in Docklands & Stratford was £0.75bn in Q2 2026 against a long-term average of £0.12bn. [1]

Investment is above trend: more pricing evidence and better liquidity.

▼ RISKS TO THE CASE

Investment sentiment hit by renewed interest rate volatility

London office investment edged up to £2.0bn in Q2 2026, but sentiment was affected by renewed interest rate volatility. [10]

Sets fresh pricing (yield) evidence for valuations and acquisitions.

▼ RISKS TO THE CASE

City & Southbank investment volume -77% vs long-term average

Investment volume in City & Southbank was £0.37bn in Q2 2026 against a long-term average of £1.60bn. [1]

Investment is well below trend: thin liquidity and little pricing evidence.

▼ RISKS TO THE CASE

540,000 sq ft speculative scheme due Q4 2027 in Rest of Docklands

One North Quay, E14 (540,000 sq ft) is under construction without a pre-let and is expected to complete in Q4 2027. [6]

New speculative space will compete for tenants with existing buildings nearby.
